WOODTURNING SEMINAR DEMONSTRATORS

BENOÎT AVERLY

Benoît Averly lives and works in Burgundy (France). Born in 1980, he initiates himself to woodturning at age 22. A short training and several trips to Europe and America allow him to become professional in 2003 and quickly be recognized in his field.

Recipient of several awards ("Young creators Contest" of Ateliers d'Art de France, "Purchase Award" from the American Association of Woodturners, USA, etc.), he still regularly shares his knowledge during demonstrations in different countries.

After a few years, his exploration of wood naturally extends to sculpture. Self-taught and instinctive, Benoît Averly creates in a minimalist style pieces of work with strong contrasts, playing with light, lines and textures. Japan. His creations, free standing pieces or wall sculptures are also used by many interior designers and he is exhibited in art galleries in France or abroad .

PETER HROMEK

Peter is fascinated by beautifully grained woods. Yet form has become the most important feature and wood for him has become secondary although still remains the material of choice. Looking at form as the focal point he has envisioned forms which are no longer only round but have other forms which can have different axes. Peter has learned to turn objects which don't look as if they have been turned on the lathe. These objects are a result of turning, shaping, and a lot of work by hand.

Peter's fascination for woodturning means for him to discover his own creative language which expresses his work and cannot be confused with the work of anyone else.

SIMON HOPE

Simon hope has been woodturning from the age of 11 and at the age of 26, was the youngest to be on the register of professional turners. 15 years on, Simon has vast experience in demonstrating to woodturning clubs across the UK and Europe, including being a full presenter for the UK premier seminar at Loughborough University twice, the Irish main seminar and tutor for La Mounlin in France as well as many shows in Germany and Austria.

Simon specialises in artistic turnings and boxes with the use of silver and pewter as well as making Scottish small pipes. His pipes are played around the world.

ROBERT O'CONNOR

"Multi award winning Robert O'Connor is regarded as one of the finest woodturners in Ireland crafting unique wooden pieces for over 25 years. Robert creates a range of items from functional to gallery pieces. He also offers commissioned work for corporate and individuals.

From his state of the art studio in Gorey, Co. Wexford he offers courses for individuals and groups from beginners to advanced."
